Overview

I participated in a contest organized by Orgvsm, as an experiment during the pandemic.

I have always been interested in fashion, as soon as I have the opportunity I sketch, which I do today too.

Sketch

Starting point

As I said, I started from scratch. I started the contest with a program that I had never used before.

My abilities improves during the contest, I started from the last position to 4th, which led me to sign a contract.

Moodboard

Depending on the project, I received a moodboard or directly a product to design.

In this case these pants

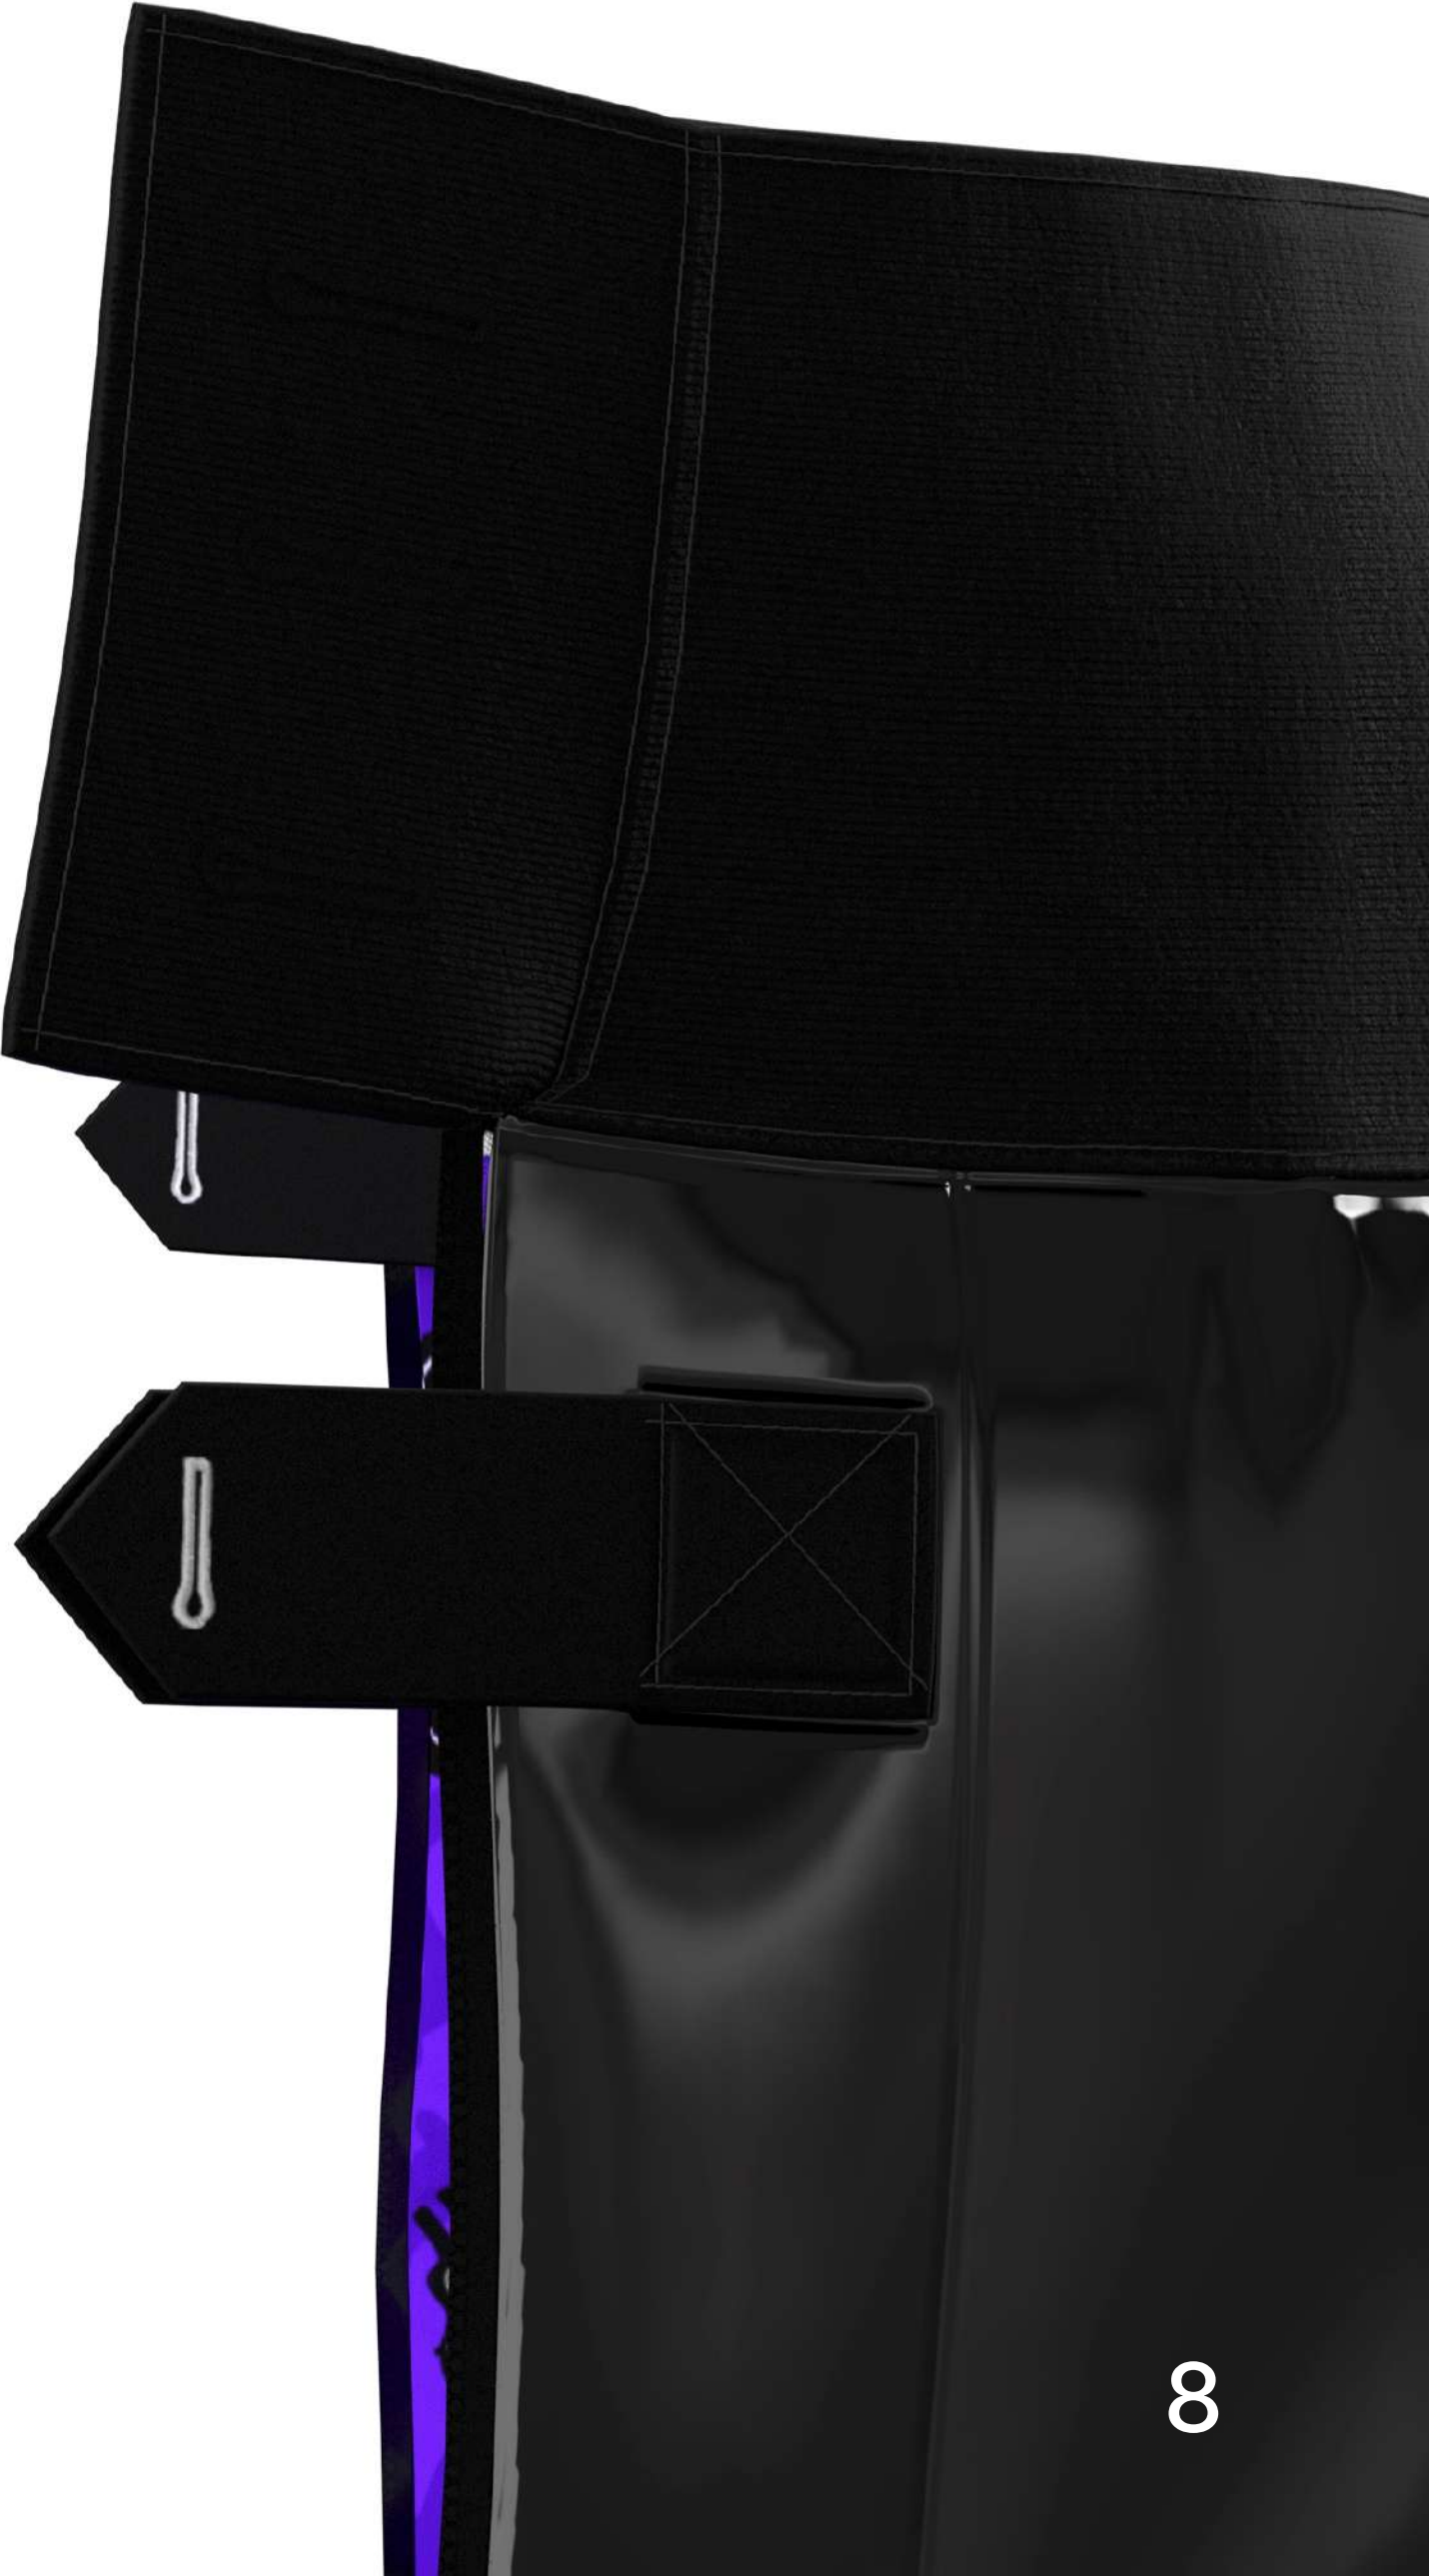

Once I understood the use of the product, I opted to make the product more in line with Orgvsm branding.

Without lacking in creativity

Outside it is made of glossy black vinyl and inside in soft cotton with a personalized texture.

Moodboard

Depending on the project, I received a moodboard or directly a product to design.

In this case these moodboard.

The moodboard suggest, a winter product that have softness and aggressiveness at the same time, this reminds me of another brand: Moncler.

So I had the idea to create an imaginary collaboration between these two brands.

Realizzato con caratteristiche giacche Moncler, using the flagship materials of Orgvsm.

This time i had absoluty free hand, i made some resarch on trending material of the moment. After that procastinate watching 8 miles. Than i trusted the process.

PS. This project is rated the 2nd best of the entire competition.

Outside it is made of grey fur,
inside have soft cotton.

The shape remindes rabbit ears.
